this can lead to a build-up of csf around the brain and an increase in its pressure, known as ‘intracranial hypertension’;